

JD Edwards EnterpriseOne Report Writing Rel 8.98

What you will learn:

By taking the Report Writing 8.98 course, you will be prepared to represent your organization's data in a structured and meticulous format. You can use the knowledge gained from the data that is collated by predicting future trends and noting profit & loss for the current financial period. The course allows you to use all aspects of the application in creating custom reports to better suit you.

The course is aimed at teaching you to:

- Understand the application and use it to create custom reports
- Enhancing created reports and using it to access required data
- Processing reports and representing data from different business scenarios
- Creating batch reports and attaching logic to them
- Generating these reports created in HTML versions and implementing them

Learn To:

- Enhance Reports
- Create, modify and submit batch versions
- Implementing Reports
- Describe BI Publisher for JD Edwards EnterpriseOne
- Setting up reports for an Enterprise
- Create Columnar, Group and Tabular section reports

Audience:

- Developer
- Application Developers
- Reports Developer
- Business Analysts

Prerequisites:

Required Prerequisites:

- Common Foundation 8.98 RWC
- JD Edwards EnterpriseOne Common Foundation Rel 9.0 - RWC

Course Objectives:

- Describe the report design process
- Set up basic reports for your enterprise
- Add functionality to your report
- Set up tabular reports
- Process Reports
- Submit jobs on the server
- Implement reports
- Describe Oracle BI Publisher

Course Topics:

Setting Up Columnar and Group Sections

- Creating Batch Applications
- Setting up Columnar Sections
- Setting up Group Sections
- Explaining Description Overrides

Using the RDA Interface

- Explaining the Report Design User Interface
- Modifying Report Sections
- Modifying Multiple Properties
- Checking In and Advancing Projects

Enhancing Reports

- Describing the Function of Headers and Footers
- Describing the Function of Level Break Headers and Footers

Identifying Data

- Describing the Purpose of Business Views

Accessing Required Data

- Setting up Business Views using a Single Table
- Setting up Business Views using Multiple Tables
- Setting up Business Views as Favorites

Processing Reports

- Describing the Purpose of Batch Versions
- Setting up Batch Versions
- Processing Batch Versions
- Overriding Report Properties at Runtime

Presenting Data that resides in different Business Views

- Describing Subsection Joins
- Setting up Reports using Subsection Joins

Modifying Batch Versions

- Explaining Rules for Modifying Batch Versions
- Overriding Version Specifications

Attaching Logic to Reports

- Explaining Events and Event Rules
- Attaching Logic to Your Reports

Setting up Tabular Sections

- Identifying Characteristics of Tabular Sections
- Setting up Tabular Sections
- Activating the Drill-Down Feature

Setting up Tabular Row Reports

- Explaining Tabular Row Reports
- Setting up Rows Manually
- Generating Rows Automatically

Batch Versions on the Web Server

- Creating Batch Versions on the Web Client
- Accessing Batch Versions on the Web Client
- Processing Batch Versions on the Web Client

Implementing Reports

- Adding Reports to JD Edwards EnterpriseOne Menu
- Adding Reports to Solution Explorer

JD Edwards EnterpriseOne BI Publisher

- Describing BI Publisher
- Submitting Report Definitions to BI Publisher
- Producing and Viewing Report Definition Output

Setting up Reports for an Enterprise